NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON EDUCATION AND CITIZENSHIP

By HERBERT J. SAMUEL

The National Conference on Education and Citizenship which met at Montreal last week was perhaps not so inspiring as were its predecessors, at Toronto in 1923, and at Winnipeg in 1919. The papers and addresses were on the whole too academic in tone and seemed for the most part to be studiously avoiding all note of challenge. A somewhat uncertain and apologetic attitude was noticeable in the leadership. This may have been due to the spirit of the place, for though the selection of Montreal as the location of the Conference was inevitable, it was not in every sense the happiest ground for a National Conference on Education and Citizenship. Montreal possesses what some of us would term a guilty conscience in matters of education. It is certainly a stronghold of mediaevalism in many ways. It suggests the impression of being too much on the defensive, an unmistakable sign of weakness rather than of strength. Such conditions cannot be inspiring, for the very essence of inspiration is sincerity; and sincerity is not one of the outstanding characteristics of education in Montreal.

Nevertheless the Conference was useful in its purpose and not altogether unpromising in its outlook. The National Council of Education was launched in 1919 by men of vision with lofty aspirations and ambitious aims. It was launched with the note of challenge, with the girding on of armour for a fight. It was not to be hoped that evrything which the Council set itself out to achieve could be realized in the short space of six years. The issues it took upon itself to tackle were too great for complete triumph after a brief struggle. Easy achievement and lasting influence do not as a rule go together in life; and lasting influence was the rallying call of the founders of the Council. Character training and preparation for citizenship are questions not solvable by the mere passing of resolutions. Nor is it possible to transfuse at a single operation a national standard of uniformity into nine separate and dissimilar provincial systems, each jealously guarded by the several provincial authorities as a matter of supreme control. The progress of movements such as the National Council of Education is not rapid. But the Conference at Montreal shows that something tangible has already been done, and that fertile soil has been broken and cleared for more yet to be done.

The National Council is an organization that appeals particularly to the earnest-minded Jew, for its aims are the fundamentals of Jewish education. Briefly stated, as they are set forth in the words of the president, they are as follows:

"(1) That education should concern itself with the development of character and should provide a full preparation for life.

(2) That education is a spiritual process. Material equipment is not an end in itself. (LO AL HA-LECHEM LEVADO YICHYEH HO-ODOM.)

(3) That education is imparted by personality.

GOODWILL

By FERDINAND M. ISSERMAN

There is no doubt that goodwill between Jews and Christians is a most desirable thing, and that we should lend our energies toward its establishment. But goodwill must not become the sole motive of Jewish life. We cannot live only to please our neighbours. We want harmonious relationships. We are willing to go out of our way to get them. But we shall not and dare not allow the desire for understanding and appreciation of our Christian neighbour to become the dominant note of Jewish life. We did not advocate the exchange of pulpits from these columns, merely because it will make for goodwill. We advocated the exchange of pulpits, because such an exchange is an expression of tolerance, and broadmindedness, which is religious and godly, and therefore Jewish. We want Jews to be tolerant, not to gain the favour of the world, but because tolerance is a beautiful ideal. We want Jews to champion noble causes, not to gain goodwill, but because noble causes are worth-while We believe in liberal Judaism, not because the services of liberal Judaism are more intelligible to the non-Jewish world, but because we feel that a living faith cannot remain static. We believe that men and women should worship together in a synagogue, not because our neighbours approve of it, but because we live in an age which has justly emancipated woman and given her the recognition in life that she merits. We believe in a sermon in English and services partially in English, not because we seek goodwill, but because English is the medium whereby the rising masses of Canadian Jews can be reached. If Jewish life would only pattern itself on the beauties of Jewish tradition, on the finest Jewish tradition, goodwill will be forthcoming. We recommend to our readers the words of Micah, "He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God?" Let the Jew live this glorious tradition, and appreciation from the world will come quickly. Goodwill is welcome. But the urge in Jewish life must ever be the desire to continue the traditions of service, of justice and of faith, which are the heart and soul of Judaism.

HARVARD'S FOOTBALL COACH

A few years ago the world was startled by the revelation that Harvard University, the Harvard of the liberal Elliot, with its excellent traditions, was preparing to limit the number of its Jewish students. This received so much publicity that a numerus clausus was at least not officially established. Several weeks ago newspaper despatches announced that Arnold Horween, of the class of 1920, former captain of Harvard and all-American half-back, has been named chief coach of the Harvard football team for next year. Horween is the son of Russian-Jewish parents, who live in Chicago. With Horween coach at Harvard, and Benny Friedman captain of the football team at Michigan University, Henry Ford would have been able to prove the Jewish dominance of football, if Red Grange had only been Jewish.

Y.M.H.A.

The house league basketball championships of the Y.M.H.A. were decided Thursday evening, May 8 when the Cubs, captained by Joe Hornstein and supported by Messinger, Katkin, Segal, Silkoff, Heft, Mallek, and Caric, defeated the Pirates, 7-14. Pirates captained by Sam Victor; Cohen, Brancer, H. Jason, Elieson, Shverman, Lazarus, Senzilet and Slutsky. The winners receive the Katkin trophy and the Royal Albert Lodge No. 16 shield which will be presented at the athletic rally in May. The Cubs have lost only one of the sixteen games.

The championship of the City and District Basketball League in the juvenile division was won by the Ten Notch club of the "Y" which took advantage of the fact that the association was not entering a juvenile team in the league, and entered their own team.

Jules Frank and Alec Myerson took part in the provincial wrestling bouts. Both of them lost by decision, but no falls were made by the victors. Jules Frank is to be awarded a bronze medal. The "Y"'s wrestling instructor, Maurice Booth, was selected as one of the referees for the provincial bouts.

Following the "Y" play at His Majesty's Theatre, April 18, there will be refreshments and dancing at the Gables, auspices the Monomar Club. Proceeds go to the "Y."

A membership social was held at the "Y" Sunday evening, April 11. The Interclub Council, Louis Jason, chairman, provided entertainment. Dancing. Next social in May.

Y.M.H.A. TO GIVE "A BILL OF DIVORCEMENT"

The Y.M.H.A. which gave "Liliom" last year under the direction of Rupert Caplan, will give "A Bill of Divorcement," by Clemence Dane, April 18, at His Majesty's Theatre, under the same direction. The play is based on the assumption that a wife whose husband has been pronounced incurably insane is entitled to her freedom. The war marriage of a girl of seventeen to a young soldier has been followed by the wounding of the young husband. He is declared incurably insane. Years have passed. The wife has obtained a divorce. She is in love and engaged to be married. The husband unexpectedly recovers. He returns home. He is utterly broken but his mind is whole. What is the wife to do? The problem is faced and solved through the daughter of the couple.

Rupert Caplan plays the part of the husband, a broken soldier. Miss Dorothy Caplan is the seventeen-year-old daughter; Miss Sarah Weiner, the wife; Josh Shapira, the girl's lover; William Shapira, the wife's new love; Mrs. Dorothyy Davis-Stein, the spinster; Bert Fromson, the clergyman; Milton Doushkiss, the physician; and Myra Chorlton, the maid.

ZIONIST ORDER OF HABONIM

Wednesday evening, April 7 a joint initiation meeting was held by the Grand Lodge and the Maccabaean Zionist Order of Habonim, at the Mount Royal Hotel, grand host Rabbi Berger presiding H. Neamtan spoke on "Creation, or the Theory of Evolution." The lecture was illustrated by slides through the courtesy of the Université de Montreal of which the lecturer is a graduate.

BARON DE HIRSCH BOOK CLUB

Speaking of John Gay's "Beggars' Opera," J. A. McNeil, dramatic editor of the "Montreal Gazette," who addressed the Baron de Hirsch Book Club, at the society's monthly meeting, Sunday evening, said that the fame of this production is not deserved on its libretto, but on the taste and discrimination in the selection of the musical setting for the lyrics. Joseph Beauchamp sang, accompanied by Miss Pauline Kanigsberg. Miss Freeda Besner gave elocution numbers. A. J. Livinson was chairman.

CHIROPRACTIC IS RIGHT

Adjustments Restore Health Quickly and Permanently

NATURE IS THE CHIROPRACTOR'S ONLY AID—ADJUSTMENTS REMOVE THE PINCH ON THE NERVES AND ENABLE NATURE TO DO HER PART TO MAKE AND KEEP THE BODY WELL.

NINETY-FIVE PER CENT. OF DISEASES ARE DUE TO PRESSURE UPON NERVES ALONG THE SIDES OF THE VERTEBRAL COLUMN. THIS PRESSURE INTERFERES WITH THEIR FUNCTIONS; HENCE INFLAMMATION, UNNATURAL ACTION, PAIN AND DISTRESS ARE MANIFESTED WHEN THESE NERVES END. ALL DISEASES ARE PROLONGED UNTIL PRESSURE UPON THESE NERVES LEADING TO THE AFFECTED PARTS IS ADJUSTED. IT IS THE BUSINESS OF THE CHIROPRACTOR TO RELEASE THIS PRESSURE WITH THE HAND, THE DOING OF WHICH HAS NEVER BEEN TAUGHT IN OTHER SCHOOLS, NOR PRACTICED BY THEM.

ANCIENT METHODS AND CURE-ALLS PUT BUT LITTLE CHECK ON DISEASE. TIMES HAVE CHANGED AND SCIENCE IS PROGRESSING.

CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENTS RELIEVING NERVE IMPINGEMENT, PERMIT NATURE TO REMOVE THE CAUSE OF DISEASE AND CORRECT ABNORMALITIES WITHOUT THE USE OF DRUGS.—DAVIS & WILSON CHIROPRACTORS 203 DRUMMOND BLDG. UP. 9195.

"(4) That education is everybody's business. The study of educational problems should be the first duty of every parent.

(5) That Canadian education must be Canadian in its ideals."

Education, in so far as it provides adequate equipment for the material pursuits of life, stands to-day on a high level in Canada generally. The men and women that are being turned out in ever increasing numbers from our educational institutions are meeting with a sucess in other lands that is unquestionable testimony to the excellence of training they received as well as to the quality of mind and talent that is being trained. That these men and women are leaving the country is a very serious loss to Canada. It is sapping the country of much of its vitality. One of the reasons—there are of course others as well—is that education in Canada lacks that spirit of national idealism that would prefer a more modest opportunity in the land one loves to a greater success elsewhere.

There is for the most part a failure to impress upon the child that ineradicable stamp of nationality that will make sacrifices in order to enhance the national heritage. Canadian education is brilliantly international in type, whereas it should be "Canadian in its ideals." If the National Council can succeed in the realization of that aim, its existence will have been amply justified. But that aim cannot make even a feeble start as long as the child is branded from birth as "non-Canadian," as long as the teachers in our schools and colleges dare not call themselves Canadians. The only definition of a Canadian at present possible is "a person of indeterminate nationality and indefinite racial origin not subject to the immigration restriction quota of the United States." The person born in Canada is a national bastard.

Another aspect of the situation is the regrettable fact that there are far too many occasions when the activities of Canadian citizens become the subject of public scandal and investigation. The literary tastes, too, of the present-day Canadian and his amusement standards are hardly those of persons of character. These questions are of paramount importance for us as Canadian citizens, and an organization such as the National Council of Education working for the promotion of the above-stated aims, merits our whole-hearted support and encouragement.

Grateful recognition is due to the Council for the many courtesies that have been shown to the Jewish communities in Canada whenever the opportunity has occurred. We have in mind the occasions of the visits of speakers such as Lord Allenby and Mrs. Snowden, the inclusion of Jews in the programmes of the Conferences at Winnipeg and Toronto, the invitations to Jews to join the Provincial Councils, and the very pleasing incident at the Montreal Conference when the school choir concert was fixed for Saturday night, rather than the more convenient Friday night so that the Jewish children could participate.

In conclusion we cannot help pointing out that the aims of the National Council, which, as we have already said, are fundamentally Jewish in conception come as a call to us as a community. Interested as we are in the proper development of Canadian nationality which is the nationality of our children we must instinctively feel that the lacking results alluded to above apply in a particular sense to our own community also. We have need for stimulating a much desired loyalty for Judaism for realizing a little higher level in Jewish thinking and for raising the standard of our observance above what is at present not even a decent minimum. In putting our minds to the problems of the National Council of Education, we may also find help in our own communal problems.

The first course in the School of Oriental Research of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, opened last month, with Professor Horovitz, of Frankfurt, as its head.

This Must Not Happen Again!

From the Montreal Gazette

NO ROOM IN THE HOSPITAL

A young Russian woman of extreme poverty died in Montreal two days ago after spending an entire day in vainly trying to gain admission to one of the local hospitals.

The case has many elements of pathos. The woman, less than thirty years of age, came to Canada a few years ago from Russia. Work was scarce and when the husband and bread-winner was stricken, even the bare necessities of life were hard to get. The surroundings in which this couple lived were sordid and filthy. Foul and scanty bedding covered

every friday

Year in and year out as campaigns come and go and elections are held by organizations and communal institutions, the same people head the campaigns or are elected to office or, what is worse, head the campaigns and are elected to office in the same several organizations at the same time. In most Jewish communities, perhaps, the monopoly on control is obvious, and so, therefore, is the reason for the lethargy of which leaders are wont to complain. Rather than watch a few people do the managing all the time in most of the important organizations and institutions, thousands stay outside the bigger circles to the detriment of the circles if not of themselves. It would be much better for campaigns, for funds, for organizations, communities and workers if, some fine day, such a godsend came as a complete shake-up, making small contributors presidents, presidents just plain on-lookers and vice-presidents the refreshment conveners.

This is not meant to imply at all that men and women now in office and on executive boards where they have been for a long time are not capable or that they are not zealous, fine people. Perhaps they are too capable to want to relinquish or to want to be relinquished. In most cases, undoubtedly, they have been chosen because they seemed the best people for the place but in many cases it is quite possible that they have been chosen out of habit and because they themselves were only too willing to be tendered the office once again. It is good for an organization to make a wise selection in officers and executive, but times change, youngsters grow up and new citizens move here to live. Must a wise selection stay the same selection for a decade? Not in organizations whose vigorous life depends even in part on whether or not they are democratic.

For the same people to hold the same communal offices all the time is to assume, and falsely, that there are none others just right for the place. There are hundreds and thousands of potential Jewish communal workers who remain disinterested because of the stagnation established by unchanged directorates and controlling officers. The firmer the hold of a few on the conduct of an organization the weaker the interest, the real interest, of the many. The strength of the large Polish communities in American cities is due principally to the fact that almost every member is on some committee or holds some office and that members are switched about. The institutions belong to every member of the community and the interest is maintained because everyone has something to do to hold the entire fabric together.

It is the duty of an officer, once elected, to interest new people in communal work and to bring forward any members who want to work for recognition. There are people in every community who yearn for recognition, a perfectly human yearning. The years go by, often, and they are unnoticed when some small place should have been found for their energy and eagerness. They constitute a valuable asset constantly being overlooked because officers are too busy in their ruts to want to develop new material. For every person who shrinks from communal activity and is sometimes lamented there are at least two eager for it and neglected. Many of the afternoon bridge players and the evening pinochle players, who want a means of self-expression, might be attracted by organization work if activities in it were kept brisk as they should be.

Within the past five years practically no new names have been added to the powers that be among the more important organizations and institutions of Toronto. During that time youths grew to maturity and men of age became settled in homes of their own. Where are they? If the Jewish community is ever going to increase its leadership, these young men should be making their mark even though a few of the older ones step down to give way. To elect a young fellow president instead of his father might just turn the trick of changing for the better the character of an institution or the management of an organization. The older people are always bemoaning the indifference of the younger men. Would they be willing to experiment with it by getting out in the herd themselves for a while?

Stagnation can never attract youth or other potential, unaffiliated communal workers. No man is likely to fall all over himself joining some organization whose officers are the same to-day as they were when he wore short trousers. To go on the same to-day, to-morrow and forever more, is to fasten the activities of a community to deadly monotony, to weaken it by failing to renew its stock of leaders, to create an unwholesome atmosphere of decay through age. Why not use the education, the new ideas of youth, the viewpoint of people from other cities and countries who have come here, the [illegible] and enthusiasm so well worth while? Shake off the fear of [illegible] custom. Mix the orthodox and reform, the radicals and [illegible] pant manufacturers, the men and the women, the you[illegible] middle-aged. Avoid duplication of people in offices in sev[illegible] zations the same year. If a man is in a high place in one [illegible] let him be a plain, every-day member in the next one. Di[illegible] and responsibilities, share the burdens, rotate officers [illegible] executive boards. Nothing cataclysmic will happen, but [illegible] inevitable invigoration from the strong wine of change.

ACROSS CANADA AND BACK

Marvelous beyond conception inaptly described as the glories of Canada's Rockies. To be fully appreciated they must be seen. To start out on a trip by one's self into this unfamiliar but far-famed paradise-on-earth, to many appears quite a task. Realizing this, Dean Sinclair Laird, of Macdonald College, an experienced Rocky Mountains traveller, for the third year in succession, has undertaken to conduct a party through this glorious wonderland.

A special train of dining, standard sleeping and observation compartment cars has been chartered, to leave Toronto June 19 via the Canadian Pacific Railway. Stops will be made at Port Arthur and Fort William, which together form Canada's greatest grain port, Winnipeg Beach, the popular summer resort for Winnipegers; Winnipeg, Canada's third largest city; Indian Head, the centre of tree-distributing centre of the Dominion Forestry Branch; Regina, the capital of Saskatchewan; Calgary, Alberta's largest city; Banff, the world-famous mountain resort; by automobile over 100 miles over the Banff-Windermere highway, the most spectacular drive in the world; through Kootenay Lake to Nelson, the commercial centre of South-eastern British Columbia; then through the fruit-bearing country to Penticton; along the shores of Okanagan Lake, and to Vancouver; thence by steamer to Victoria. Returning, the trip will be by the main line of the Canadian Pacific, through the great canyons of the Fraser and Thompson Rivers, and through the Selkirks and Rockies, affording scenery such as can be found nowhere else on earth; Lake Louise, the Pearl of the Rockies, the most perfect gem of scenery in the world; another day at Banff, Edmonton, the Capital of Alberta; Saskatoon, the city of optimism; Devil's Gap Camp, on the Lake of the Woods, near Kenora; thence to Fort William, where one of the fine Canadian Pacific Steamers will be used across Lakes Superior and Huron to Port McNicoll, then rail to Toronto, where the trip will terminate.

Everything is included in the price of $330, from Toronto; transportation, sleeping cars, accommodation in hotels, and bungalow camps, meals in diners, hotels and on steamers and sight-seeing tours at points visited.

The trip is open to all, and applications for accommodation are being received.

Fares from other points than Toronto will be named, and descriptive illustrated booklet sent on application to Dean Sinclair Laird, Macdonald College Post Office, Que.

THE PORTUGUESE MARRANOS

Reports of the existence of a number of communities in Portugal whose inhabitants belong to ancient Marrano families and who still maintain Jewish customs and observances have been current for the past fifteen years, since Portugal became a republic. A Polish Jewish engineer, Mr. Samuel Schwartz, an enthusiastic and well-informed Jew, became interested in these crypto-Jews and visited many of these towns and villages and came in close contact with the inhabitants. He became convinced that unless immediate steps are taken for their rescue they would gradually be lost to Judaism, and at his urging, the Lisbon Jewish community addressed an appeal to the Anglo-Jewish Association and to the Alliance Israelite Universelle and other Jewish bodies to assist them to organize schools in these districts, which they regarded as the only means of remedying the situation at present. In consequence of that, Mr. Lucien Wolf was delegated to visit Portugal, and on his return presented a tentative report of the conditions as he found them.

Mr. Wolf relates that the present Marranos are the descendants of Jews who, at the end of the fifteenth century, were forced to receive baptism, and ever since then, in spite of the Inquisition and the government persecutions, maintained their Judaism. Of the 120 towns which they formerly inhabited, there are now not more than twenty to twenty-five. The strangest thing about this phenomenon is that although since 1775 there was no persecution against them, and in 1910 the State Church was entirely abolished, not a single Marrano came out of his hiding-place. The reason for this is that the Marranos were very much weakened after their great struggles and believed that theirs was the only Judaism that survived and that secrecy was a fundamental and essential part of it.

The only Jewish ceremonies which they still observe are the Sabbath, the Passover and the Yom Kippur. They light the Sabbath lamp, abstain from work on that day, put on their best clothes and cook their food the day before. Passover is a great time with them. They have secret conventicles at which they bake their matzoth. Besides that they follow no other ceremony. They have no Seder liturgy. The Day of Atonement is observed as a strict fast day. Mr. Schwartz collected a number of Portuguese prayers which they use, but these are very few and are getting less and less. The traditions are handed down by the old women in the communities, who act as the rabbis and chazanim. It is due to this that a great many superstitions have crept into their lives, which make it still harder to enlighten them. In spite of all that, there was a very strong Jewish consciousness prevalent among them, even among the most ignorant.

Mr. Schwartz estimated that there are about 10,000 families of these Marranos still in existence. Mr. Wolf, however, believed that there were not more than half that number, although there are many of the descendants of the New Christians who could easily be led back to Judaism. Mr. Wolf's suggestion is that a missionary center should be established at Oporto, the town nearest to the Marrano settlements, through which many of them could be rescued back to the Jewish fold. The complete report of Mr. Wolf's observations will soon be ready, when the Anglo-Jewish Association, in co-operation with other organizations, will undertake some definite line of action in this matter.

Springtime—yes, quite!

The lambkins don't have to gambol to the music of the birdlets to convince any onlooker that springtime has arrived at this laundry. Spring is perpetual for the "family washes." Every minute of the day sees another done up in its neatly folded bundle—a bundle of snowy crispness, redolent of the freshness that can only come from soft water, pure soap and many rinsings. A phone call will connect your family wash with this wonderful rejuvenator. Five ways of doing wash, all good, all reasonably rated. Phone now.

NORTHERN ONTARIO CANADA

Northern Ontario, now open for settlement in 160-acre blocks at fifty cents per acre, contains millions of acres of the finest agricultural land in the world. Its resources in lumber, mineral, water power, fish, game and scenery, are immense. The land calls for men to cultivate it, and in return will give health, comfort and prosperity.

What settlers say of the soil, climate farming and forest life, is told in a most attractive booklet issued under the direction of the Honourable John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario. Full instructions in regards to acquiring a title to these rich agricultural lands are also given.

PANTAGES

If life was made for laughter, whoever attends the Pantages Theatre while "The Cohens and Kellys" is the feature, will live a complete life during the run of the picture.

The Irish policeman who opens his heart to the Jewish family is played by Charlie Murray. Teamed with him in furnishing much of the comedy is Kate Price, a real Irish lady from Ireland, while on the other end of the balance are Vera Gordon, the famous hit of "Humoresque," and George Sidney, a stage actor of thirty-two years' experience. These two Jewish players contribute their quota of laughs.

For the best screen entertainment of the year do not miss "The Cohens and Kellys". Another excellent vaudeville bill of five big acts is headed by the world's most celebrated and distinguished artist, Mercedes, assisted by the marvelous mystic, Mlle Stantone, the remarkable couple who have startled and amazed the entire universe. Mercedes positively takes music from your mind and by concentration mentally transfers your musical thought to Mlle. Stantone, who immediately plays the selection upon the piano.

A complete list of contributors will be published in next week's REVIEW.

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, of Cleveland the speaker detailed the plight of the Jewish people in Europe.

The Jew had made four tremendous contributions to mankind--prophecy, law, mysticism and nationalism--all of which had been fashioned on the soil of Palestine, the speaker stated. Prophecy had been the cry of the human soul against oppression and injustice, the outreaching of the human soul for God. It has received its consummate expression, its most perfect phrasing in Palestine. The 2,000 years of exile had not added one word to it, for in exile the Jew lacked his sense of prophecy.

The Pharisees had been the true heirs of the prophets and had sought interpretation rather than revelation. They, too, had found its most perfect expression in Palestine. Mysticism had run like a golden thread through Jewish literature and had received its most wonderful phrasing in Palestine. Lastly, nationalism had developed in Palestine. The Jew believed that a nation was a divine entity, a sacred being which must not be destroyed. The people of Israel believed, too, that a people must serve, and so they had served, and 2,000 years of exile could not destroy the power of their nation because the Jews read a deeper meaning into the word than had other nations.

Palestine was bound to win out because its appeal was irresistible, he continued. It was only a question of time until Palestine would be rebuilt and come into its own. It had been returned to the Jews, but it would take many years before it would be received by them, for receiving meant rebuilding, rehabilitating and repopulating. Their beautiful dream of the centuries was at last being realized and now that it had become a fact rather than a fancy, was the time to take possession. Palestine had served the Jew better than the Jew had served Palestine. The spirit and memory of Palestine had remained with God's chosen people during all the years of their wandering over the face of the earth. The aroma of Israel was found in every act of the Jewish life, Palestine had never forsaken them. To-day many of that race were living in Europe, a wounded and broken people, but their spirits remained undaunted and their whole thought and conversation was their return to help rebuild Palestine—sometime, they knew not when. So

M. Gelber
Vice-President, Zionist Organization of Canada

Palestine had served the Jew in the darkest moments of the present as well as the past.

In proposing the toast to 'The Zionist Organization," Rabbi Jesse Schwartz gave a detailed history of the Zionist movement.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Freiman, of Ottawa, responded to the toasts to "The Zionist organization" and "Hadassah," respectively. Louis M. Singer was toastmaster and proposed the toast to "The King."
